The KindyLinQ initiative is a facilitated early learning program for children in the years before school who attend with a parent/caregiver. KindyLinQ aims to support children's learning, development and engagement in the year before they start kindergarten, enhance the confidence of parents/caregivers as their children's first teachers and forge strong and supportive links between home, school, early childhood services and the community. Children will attend along with their parents and engage in a range of activities with Nature play and oral language development approach.
